They returned home Monday. Miss Eula Mae Spencer accompanied them as far as Lexington and visited her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bach.

A CLEAN CITY

We want our city to be clean. A really good salesman knows the value of well dressed windows and artistic display of his merchandise. He is also very particular with his surroundings. The sidewalk and the street near his store are always under observation and he is concerned in making and keeping them clean and attractive.

To keep streets and sidewalks clean we must have the help and consideration of persons who use them. Some of us are careless or thoughtless in this respect. We buy a lunch in a paper sack, eat the lunch and throw the paper sack away. If this happens on a town street or sidewalk somebody must pick up that paper sack or it is left to litter up the street. We eat a banana and drop the peeling at our feet. This is dangerous as well as untidy.

A good boy scout will make a good citizen when he is grown up. It is one of the ideals of a good scout to do a good deed every day. It is a good deed to make and keep a city clean. Let us resolve today—boy and man—not to throw refuse of any kind on our streets and sidewalks. Keep paper bags or refuse of any kind in your hands or pockets until you can dispose of them in such a way as not to cause annoyance or danger to anyone else.

JOINT AID MEETING

Mrs. J. W. Benton was the hostess at a joint meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Cannel City Union Church and the Sewing Circle of the Church of God, Thursday afternoon, March 17. Present for this pleasant occasion were: Mrs. W. T. Stamper, Mrs. Inez Donovan, Mrs. Dorsey Peyton, Mrs. Lee Peyton, Mrs. H. M. Ferguson, Mrs. Mike Benton, Mrs. Press Sebastian, Miss Sallie Minor, Mrs. Donnie Patrick, Mrs. Roy Benton, Mrs. J. W. Benton, Mrs. J. D. Benton, Mrs. W. J. Terrell, Mrs. Lonnie Patrick, Mrs. Cleve Stacy, Mrs. Chalmers Benton, Mrs. Clyde Wells, Mrs. Walter Howard, Misses Wilma Faulkner, Gertrude Stacy, Gladys Benton, Ina Pearl Dunigan. Visitors were Mrs. Doon Howard and Coleen Patrick.

Hymns sang were: "The Way of the Cross Leads Home," and "It is Well With My Soul."

Mrs. W. T. Stamper in the absence of the president had charge of the meeting. Mrs. Benton read as the devotional, Psalm II. Miss Minor led in prayer. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the roll call it was found that no work had been prepared by either organization, each was expecting to help the other.

The two quilt tops of Mrs. Clyde Wells were shown and admired and orders were put in for others to be made. A motion was made and carried to get a present for Mrs. John M. Harbin, formerly Miss Lorena Briscoe, one of the Aid members now living in Middletown, Ohio.

Another bride, Mrs. Walter Howard, daughter of our hostess, was given a shower by the members of the two organizations. She received a large number of useful and pretty gifts which she opened and showed to the guests, and for which she expressed her appreciation in well chosen words.

During the social hour the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Howard and Miss Gladys, served nice refreshments of tea cakes, coffee and delicious sea foam candy.

After a most enjoyable afternoon we adjourned to meet with Mrs. Stamper, March 31.

A large number of friends completely surprised Miss Elizabeth Wells Friday evening. They showered her with fifty-two beautiful handkerchiefs. Some brought popcorn and others brought popcorn balls, which they served later in the evening.

They all had a very pleasant evening together. There was quite a jolly time trying to say good-bye as Elizabeth would invariably say, I will see you tomorrow.

However, Elizabeth took the train Sunday for Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, to spend some time with her great uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wells. Her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wells and her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wells, saw her off at the station.

Miss Elizabeth will not only be missed by her immediate family, but by a host of friends. Especially will she be missed in the Baptist Sunday School and church, where she was a quiet but faithful worker.

MORGAN COUNTY 1938

AGRICULTURE PROGRAM

The social and economic changes that have taken place in Morgan County since 1930 put Morgan County farmers in a close place. The opportunity to earn supplemental incomes, such as was formerly derived from natural resources, is almost a thing of the past. A program that will best utilize what we have is what the farmers have tried to consider.

Feel free to call at the County Agent's office and offer what suggestions you may have as to the developing of this program.

The following is the 1938 Extension Program for Morgan County:

1. Some factors considered in arriving at this program.
2. 3000 farms in county.
3. 65 acres in average farm.
4. Between 5 and 6 people on average farm.
5. Population increased 18 % since 1900.
6. Income from timber, coal, and gas almost gone.
7. Soil the chief source of income in Morgan County.
8. One-third of one sheep, 2.5 head of cattle, 1.5 head of work stock, 25 hens, about 0.75 acres of tobacco, 8 acres of corn, and about 3 acres of wheat, oats, rye, and sorghum came on the average farms.
9. Farm income too low.
10. Farmer utilizing about 35 % of farm.

II. Method of arriving at program. 1. These factors were discussed together with others at meeting of farmers over the county. Leaders were appointed for various projects. Then county wide meetings were held for purpose of discussing merits of program.

- III. Conclusion arrived at.
1. Too many acres of land on average farm not being utilized.
2. Not enough sheep.
3. Not enough good pastures.
4. Farmers in Morgan County that were making money from farming had their farms fenced, grass and livestock on them.
5. Need a livestock program that will require a minimum amount of grain.
6. Need more hogs to eat.
7. Corn yield too low. More corn on fewer acres.
8. 4-H Clubs for boys and girls.
9. Not enough poultry on average farm.

IV. Program adopted.

1. 100 farmers add sheep to their livestock program.
2. Improve quality and quantity of pastures thus reduce length of feeding period.
3. 60 farmers fence their farms.
4. 30 brooder and laying house demonstrations in county.
5. Encourage young people to take advantage of 4-H club program.
6. Improve quality of tobacco.
7. Eliminate scrub sires.
8. Grass, fence and more and better livestock our goal.

YANDAL WRATHER, County Agent.

OIL IN MICHIGAN

The following from the State Journal of Michigan will be of general interest. The Mr. Gentry mentioned lived at West Liberty for some time and is the son-in-law of Mrs. Hattie A. Baldwin.

Lakeview, March 17.—Prospectors were seeking leases Thursday in the vicinity of the Anders Christensen No. 1 wildcat test in Section 29 of Pine township, Montcalm county, following the discovery of oil there Wednesday.

Officials of the H. L. Gentry Engineering Company, which sunk the well, announced the test had struck oil in the Traverse sand at 2,800 feet. It had risen 1,700 feet in the hole, it was said, and the drillers expected the petroleum to begin flowing after they have run a five-inch casing.

The well is located two and a half miles west of Langston, or 10 miles south of here. There are no producers within a dozen miles of the strike, the nearest being the Ambie wells of the Winfield field to the north.

Sunday Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Allen of White Oak and Mrs. Milt Taubee also of White Oak were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Auty McClain on Sunday.

Back From Hospital

Mrs. Warren L. Peyton returned from the City View Hospital at Paintsville on Friday of last week, and is well on the road to complete recovery from a serious operation.

Both Circuit Court and County Court will be in session here Monday of next week.

Spring opened Monday officially. It was a grand opening.

MEXICO SEIZES OIL FIELDS

By official proclamation on Saturday of last week the president of Mexico expropriated all foreign owned oil properties in his country.

The foreign owned oil industry of the country, owned largely by American and British citizens, is worth more than $400,000,000.

Acute labor difficulties between the high salaried foreign operators and the local workmen has been of long standing.

A very much similar condition exists in Mexico's extensive mining industry and notice has been served that unless conditions improve very promptly the government will move to improve conditions there. This industry is also largely foreign owned.

The high salaries prevailing in white collared positions held almost exclusively by non-Mexicans as against the pittance paid the regular laborers, mostly Mexican, has caused the main difficulties and the government has finally moved to clear up the whole situation.

American and British interests up to a few years ago, and even now, have looked to their home countries to protect them in their rights.

The more recent view of what rights (?) an American citizen has who voluntarily takes his property to a foreign country and away from the immediate supervision of his native country, has changed with the times and what might have been a cause for war with Mexico, in this year of grace will be only an excuse for a few brief notes between diplomats of the two or more countries concerned.

Appreciates Hospital Service

I feel that my wife and I have been rendered a fine service by the City View Hospital at Paintsville. This institution offers to Morgan County people hospital and surgical care for the low sum of $1.50 per month. Dr. H. D. Daniels and his staff of efficient nurses have done wonders for us and I want everybody to know that I appreciate it. (Adv.) WARREN L. PEYTON

Humor Under The Knife

The barber knicked the wealthy patron with his razor.

"Well," he said presently, "I never thought it was so easy to bleed a banker."

"It would be a good thing," remarked his victim, "if some of those barbers were like their razors."

"How, sir?"

"Underground," was the calm reply.

Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Garriott had business in Winchester Monday and returned home Tuesday.

YOUNG MAN SUICIDES

The most severe shock to the whole community that we have had, for many days came to us at the noon hour on Monday when it was learned that Ethered Gibbs of near town lay dead at his home from a self-inflicted shotgun wound.

Ethered was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Gibbs and was born November 10, 1909. He was graduated from the Morgan County High School in 1929 and from Berea College in 1934.

He taught school at Lick Branch, Crockett, and Cannel City, since his graduation. He was always overzealous in his studies and of a delicate nervous temperament. He was a young man of good habits and his family had great hopes for his future.

About two months ago he became so nervous and so wandering in his mind that he was compelled to quit his labors as teacher at Cannel City, came home here, and was later taken to a State institution at Lexington.

His family thought he was improving there. About two weeks ago his brother, Hubert, coming home on a vacation, visited him. Ethered wished to come along home, and after consulting with the physician in charge it was decided that it might be good for him to come. The tragedy followed.

The Gibbs are a fine family, all very much attached to each other. The brothers and sisters worked and saved together to put Ethered through high school and college. The family has the sympathy and love of the whole community in this sad affliction.

Besides his parents, Ethered leaves two sisters, Hattie at home and Mrs. Arzola Ruyle of Collins, Mo., and two brothers, Hubert, with U. S. Army at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and Chester, with the U. S. Navy, stationed in Virginia.

Funeral services were conducted at the home on Long Branch at 10 o'clock a.m. yesterday, with Revs. Harlen Murphy and W. W. Garriott in charge.

Burial was in Haney Cemetery at Stacy Fork.

COLLINS

F. D. Collins was born July 5, 1902 and died March 15, 1938, aged 35 years, 8 months. He had been ill since October, but did not become serious until about two weeks ago. His last words were of heaven. He said he was prepared to go and meet his Savior. He was a vacant spot in our home that can never be filled. But we know he is at rest and will live in hopes of meeting him some day where there will be no more parting and suffering. He leaves to mourn his loss his aged wife, Mrs. Lizzie E. Collins and six children, Morton, Walter, Roy and Russle of this place and Mrs. Al Richie of this place and Mrs. J. D. Smedley of Craney. He also leaves a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren, three brothers, H. H. Collins, W. D. Collins of this place and Bryant Collins of Salt Lick, and a host of friends and relatives. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him but we feel that our loss is heaven's gain. He was laid to rest Thursday, March 16 in the Perry Cemetery. CONTRIBUTED

Woodsbend 4-H Club

The Bearwallow 4-H Club was reorganized March 8, and changed its name to the Woodsbend 4-H Club with monthly meetings at the new Woodsbend school building. Several new members were admitted from the Flat Woods and Carter communities bringing the total number of members up to 22. Eula Mae Caudill was elected president, since the former president, Robert Henry, had gone to Berea High School. The girls met Saturday, March 19, with their leader, Mrs. Byron May, and completed their tea towels.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Woodsbend, Ky.—A quilting and birthday dinner was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. May, Saturday, March 19, in honor of their little grandson, Byron Edward, who was two years old, March 20.

Those present were: Mesdames, Ethelle Caudill, Margaret Henry, Laura Deltaven, Mary Lou Henry, Wilma Lee Wells, Rebecca Engle, Ollie Carpenter, Misses Monelle Hale, Wayne Wells, Cynthia Combs, Clarice May, Irene Rowland, Anna Henry and Janice Gose.

Britain Joins New York Fair

NEW YORK—A stirring scene in front of the Administration Building at the New York World's Fair 1939 as the Union Jack of Great Britain is hoisted aloft signifying that John Bull will be represented at America's exposition. The British exhibit will occupy 140,000 square feet, the largest of the 64 foreign displays now being prepared, and will cost several millions.

FARMERS' COLUMN

TOBACCO MARKETING QUOTA

By a vote of more than four to one, growers of dark tobacco in Kentucky in the referendum held in western counties approved the marketing quota set by the Secretary of Agriculture. Returns from 30 counties gave 21,860 votes for the quota to 4,605 votes against it. More than three-fourths of the farmers who were eligible to vote by reason of having grown dark tobacco last year went to the polls.

Cotton growers in seven counties approved a marketing quota for that crop by a vote of 1,724 to 369.

Marketing quotas for both crops required the approval of two-thirds of growers voting in order to be effective.

With the marketing quota for dark tobacco approved by the growers, the next step will be to assign to each grower of that tobacco an acreage allotment. On the basis of this allotment, each grower will at a later date be assigned the number of pounds he can sell without penalty. Local communities in each county now are at work setting up the usual tobacco acreage for each farm, which is the first step in establishing the acreage allotments.

TO TRY SHEEP RAISING

With an average of less than half of a sheep per farm, sheep raising was stressed at 22 Morgan County meetings held by Yandall Wrather, county agricultural agent. As an average each farm in the county has at least 40 acres that should be devoted to livestock, says Mr. Wrather. As the situation is now, these 40 acres are a liability rather than an asset.

An effort will be made to have four or five farmers in each of 12 communities start in sheep raising, and thereby demonstrate possibilities in this livestock. The two chief problems are dogs and lack of fences.

BLUEGRASS FOR THE LAWN

To have a permanent lawn, at least 50 percent of the seed mixture should be Kentucky bluegrass, advises the seed laboratory at the Kentucky Experiment Station. It is better to have 70 percent of the seed of the Kentucky variety. For the average lawn, the following mixture is suggested: 75 percent high-grade Kentucky bluegrass and 25 percent redtop. Rye grass has been found to be a good quick-growing nurse crop for the permanent grasses. Both timothy and orchard grass are essentially field grasses, unfit for a lawn. Further information may be obtained by writing the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

PLANTS MAY KILL SHEEP

A review of the available information indicates that there are at least 75 plants, spotted hemlock, wild cherry, white snakeroot, water hemlock, jimson weed, deadly nightshade and whorled milkweed, are known to have caused losses in sheep in Kentucky during the past two years.

The majority of cases of plant poisoning occur in the early spring and during dry weather. Samples of spotted hemlock ten inches high were received at the Experiment Station at Lexington February 17. The hemlocks are the first plants to cause trouble in the spring.

Sheep are not so likely to eat poisonous plants if other feed is available in sufficient quantities. In the early spring or during a drought, weeds may be present in greater quantity than good forage plants. Some of these weeds may contain poison.

Poisonous plants usually grow along fences, on the banks of streams and in wet places and wooded pasture. If it is thought that animals have been poisoned, suspicion should be directed to plants that have been grazed. The mere presence of a poisonous plant does not mean that it is causing trouble.

Plants that are suspected of being poisonous may be sent to the Experiment Station for identification. The complete plant, including the roots and flowers or fruit, should be sent if possible. The plant should be wrapped in wax paper. Care should be taken in packing so as to prevent its being broken too badly in transit. A letter of explanation should always be sent along with the plant specimen.

The problem of poverty is far deeper than mere bread and butter. We know that much of poverty is caused by poor economic adjustment over which men do not seem to have control. Some day that maladjustment will be remedied. But first and foremost there must be the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity of character and willingness to work. But how are we to get these virtues. Here is where good common sense, plus religion step in to make life whole.—Berea Citizen.

Several months ago in Oldham County a grade crossing accident involving a cattle truck and an L and N train occurred. Otto Gullion, brakeman on the train was killed and his estate instituted suit against Ray Gay, the truck driver, and Roy Watson, the truck owner, for damages of $50,000. Last week the jury returned a verdict awarding the estate $7,500. The jury ignored a claim for $24,444 on the part of the railroad company for damage to its equipment, and found nothing for Gay on a $1,500 counter-claim. The interesting feature of the trial is that in a traffic accident between a train and a motor truck, a jury found, not merely that the truck driver should not recover, but that damages should be awarded to the estate of a railroad employee killed in the collision.—Elizabethtown News.

WASHINGTON NOTES

PHILIPPINES

Paul V. McNutt, High Commissioner to the Philippines, asserts that if independence is given the islands it might mean "a mere trade of sovereignties." Responsive to this expression, Filipino leaders have expressed a willingness to reconsider the status of the Islands in the light of a realistic examination of facts.

POSTMASTER

Washington is interested in the recent appointment of Mrs. Ewilda Robinson to be acting-postmaster at Little Rock, Arkansas. She is the widow of the late Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, who was majority leader in the Senate. The appointment carries a salary of $6,000 a year.

BOMBERS

The Army's "flying fortresses" recently demonstrated how the nation can be covered in an emergency by staging an "air raid" on Tampa, Florida. The planes left Selfridge Field, Michigan, and roared over the Florida city in fours and a half. The eight machines were accompanied by squadrons of smaller bombers and little pursuit ships. They brought more than a hundred men to join the ground crews during the air maneuvers.

DRYS GAIN

On the anniversary of National Prohibition, Senator Sheppard invariably arises in the Senate and delivers an oration on the virtues of Prohibition. His performances are the cause of good-natured joshing, but the dry forces, after four years' legalized sale of alcoholic beverages, are taking the aggressive all over the nation. Dry sentiments are expressed repeatedly at the polls where there have been 5,000 dry victories in 7,000 local option fights.

Meanwhile, reasons for this sentiment are sought by wets, who generally agree that elements within the liquor industry have abused the privilege that they have had. Captain Wilford S. Alexander, head of the Federal Alcoholic Administration, has repeatedly pointed out that the liquor business is like no other business in the world. He warned distillers to stop claims that their product is healthful, that it aids digestion and to keep women and children out of their advertising. He insists that the spectacle of young girls and women drinking at bars is "abhorrent to the moral sense of the public."

WPA

WPA had 2,166,878 persons on its rolls during the week ended March 5th. This was 90,621 more than in the previous week. The largest increases were: Indiana, 14,794; Michigan, 14,694; Ohio, 13,058; and Illinois, 10,174.

GETTYSBURG

President Roosevelt is expected to deliver a short address at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, during the observance of the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

AMUSEMENTS

A study of 9,407 American families in 140 villages showed the Bureau of Home Economics that out of every dollar spent for amusements, twenty-nine cents goes to the movies. The average amount spent for "pictures" was $12 in New England villages, $10 in the Central and Atlantic states, $16 in the Mountain and Plains states, $15 in the Pacific states, and $16 for white families of the Southeastern states.

PLEASED

Secretary Morgenthau takes much pleasure in the workings of the tripartite monetary agreement, the stabilization fund and the gold "sterilization" program. He considers it quite remarkable that business in this country was not affected by the critical events in Europe last week and asserts that our monetary policy "isolates us" against such shocks.

3,500,000

Admiral Williams, director of the National Youth Administration, says that 3,500,000 youths are unable to obtain high school education in this country because their parents cannot afford it. He testified before a Senate subcommittee conducting hearings on the bill by Senator Lundeen, of Minnesota, to use $500,000,000 in Federal funds for vocational and educational training of persons sixteen to twenty-five years of age. Mr. Williams, however, thought this amount was too much.

JOBLESS

Total unemployment in January was estimated at 10,973,000 by the American Federation of Labor, which reports, however, a slight increase in employment early in February.

The Courier for Grade A homes.

BOB JONES' COMMENTS

A prominent religious leader, who is supposed to know a great deal about the moral conditions of America, said recently that there are more women drunkards in this country than men drunkards. I go into all sections of this nation. This editorial is being written in a Los Angeles hotel. I have just crossed the continent aboard a modern railroad train. I noticed in the luxurious lounge car that while there were more men than women traveling, there were more women than men ordering alcoholic drinks. From what I have observed, I am convinced that this religious leader is correct in his statement. No nation ever went to hell until the women of the nation deteriorated morally. In the sight of God sin is sin whether it is committed by man or woman. As far as world consequences are concerned, it is worse for women to drink than it is for men. What can you expect of a generation when mothers in the laboratory of their bodies mix cocktails with the milk which nourishes their babies, and while the baby is in the arms of the mother ashes are dropped from the mother's cigarette into the baby's face! No wonder the nation is becoming bankrupt morally. Women cannot live on the same plane with men. They are always better or worse than men. Woman was last at the cross and first at the open sepulchre. But it is probably historically true that the form of death by crucifixion was first hatched out in the brain of a degenerate woman. Back to God, American women! Back to old-time womanly decency!

I am looking out of my hotel window at the crowded streets of the lovely city of Los Angeles. It is lovely—I mean the climate, I mean the clear sky and the bright sunshine. There are lovely people here too. I suppose there are more orthodox Christians in this city than there are in any city of the same size in America. I am preaching in a church that has three thousand people who worship there every Sunday. I refer to the Church of the Open Door. Dr. Louis Talbot is the pastor. He is one of the most successful pastors and Bible teachers I have ever known. A few months ago I had the honor of conducting evangelistic services in Bob Schuler's church. He has a membership of almost five thousand. What a courageous servant of Christ he has been! No minister on the Pacific coast wields a greater influence politically or religiously than Schuler. He has been in many battles. He has enemies. All strong characters have enemies. But no mortal man has ever been able to smear the good name of Bob Schuler. What a tragedy of horrors it is for religious leaders to stand before the public when people generally know that they are not right morally! Thank God for men like Talbot and Schuler. We are not indebted to these men because we are Christians, but unconverted men who love their country are under obligation to these servants of Christ. Our conditions are bad. Immorality is rampant and scandal is everywhere in this section. But there is one thing true about Los Angeles—there are many citizens here who will fight for the right. There is always hope as long as leaders have moral conviction. God give us grace to see that wickedness is black and righteousness is white. It is when black wickedness and white righteousness become a dull gray in the estimation of the public, that the doom of the nation is sealed.

Ruins of Cuzco

In Cuzco, Peru, once the metropolis of the Incas, are massive ruins on a par with those found in Egypt. When the city was captured by Pizarro its temples were marvels of magnificence, says the Washington Post. The Temple of the Sun was covered with a roof of gold. The railroad to Cuzco skirts Lake Titicaca, an inland sea, 161 miles long, 60 miles wide and 12,500 feet above the level of the sea. The water never freezes, even when the temperature drops to 30 degrees, and steel knives thrown into it do not rust.

London Tops in River Ports

London ranks as first of the world's river ports. The earliest exports there were grain, dog skins and slaves.

Penny Bought a Resort

Zakopane, famous Polish tourist resort, was once put up to auction as part of a vast estate. To save it for his country, a Polish nobleman offered a penny more each tin. A non-Polish bidder made an offer for it. The bidding went up and up, but the Pole finally secured the resort for just a penny more than others had offered.

An Institute

An institute in general is a trade association founded to promote the interests of all branches of the industry which it represents. It is designed to foster trade in the products of the industry, to afford a means of co-operation with the government and to promote the study of the allied arts and sciences.

MORGAN COUNTY SCHOOL PAGE

(Under Auspices of Ova O. Haney, County Supt.)

WEST LIBERTY SCHOOL NEWS

The Chapel program for last Friday, March 18, was conducted by the Junior class.

Mr. Carpenter made some important announcements concerning library book fines and the high school annual.

Mary Belle Johnson read the first twelve verses of the twenty-second chapter of Proverbs, after which Rev. W. W. Garriott of the Methodist church led in prayer.

"Love's Old Sweet Song" was sung by the Junior class.

Athleen Lawson read three poems which she is to give at Hazard.

Naomi Meadows gave a reading "Tom Sawyer's Love Affairs," which she is also to give at Hazard this week. It was very amusing and kept us in suspense of what would really happen.

A one act comedy "Here Comes the Bride" was then presented by seven characters, four boys and three girls. The boys were Robert Cottle, the station agent, Stuart Lawson, an old bachelor, Bernie Lykins, a young bride groom, and Paul Whitt, also a young bridegroom. The girls were, Edna Elam, a husband hunting old maid, Geneva Meadows, a young bride, Athleen Lawson, another bride.

The scene was in a small railroad station. Edna Elam, the old maid, was on her way to meet her prospective bride groom, Stuart Lawson, the bachelor. Athleen Lawson was hurriedly leaving to prevent her younger sister's wedding to Paul Whitt, when she became acquainted with Bernie. They immediately admired each other.

When Stuart came in he was mistaken and thought he had a very lovely wife, Athleen, but he came to find out that Edna Elam was to be his bride. Geneva rushed in on Bernie and Athleen who were also happily married afterwards.

We believe or at least hope that our program was a success, as we did our very best to entertain everybody. MARY BELLE JOHNSON, Secretary.

The P. T. A. basketball teams were victorious in both games. Wednesday night of last week. The women won by a score of 20-4.

The Salsyville women made only one field goal.

The men won easily. The score being 38-16. It would be difficult to select any player who was outstanding in this game. Craft, Gardner, and Stewart led the attack with Gardner and Craft doing most of the scoring. The Salsyville teams were not forced to stand on the outside in the rain, as they say they did during the District Tournament held at West Liberty on the 4th and 5th of March. No doubt had they brought their band along, Salsyville would have won a "tooting" victory.

The Morgan County High School is sorry that the District Tournament was not held in such a manner as to be pleasing to the Salsyville fans. In our opinion the tournament was well conducted, the officiating was good, and there should be no just reason for complaint. We wonder what the Salsyville fans say about the Regional Tournament held at Prestonsburg, in which Salsyville was eliminated in the first game.

In our opinion, it began raining an hour before the game started, and the doors did not open until a few minutes before the referee's whistle blew.

The following teachers attended the State Basketball Tournament at Lexington, Saturday: Winfred Carpenter, Roy Nickell, Major Gardner, Ethel Mae Keeton, Lena McClure, and Nelle Taulbee.

Dr. W. G. McClain, a former student of the Morgan County High School and a graduate in the class of 1925, was a guest of the school Monday.

Mr. French O. Maggard, Supervisor Educational Aid, National Youth Administration, was a visitor in the Principal's office, Friday of last week.

F. F. A.

M. C. H. S. Chapter

The boys in agriculture are going along nicely with their projects. Robert Cottle recently received chickens on one of his projects. They are about 2 weeks old and were 100 percent alive when shipped and are still all alive. He is carrying out all the improved practices he has been studying.

Robert Potter got 100 chicks which arrived 100 percent alive and has lost only one.

Delbert Trimble got 225 chicks and hasn't lost any yet.

Harlan Lykins got 225 chicks which arrived 100 percent alive and hasn't lost any yet.

Besides having several good chicks some of the boys have gotten purebred Duroc Jersey Pigs from Berea College Farm. Harlan Lykins and Delbert Trimble each got a pig. Lee Lykins got two pigs. We hope that the people of Morgan County will see that it pays to have better stock and carry out improved practices.

Several more of the boys are starting their practices by sowing tobacco beds. In a few weeks some of the boys will start other projects and we hope they get along nicely.

HOW INSTITUTIONS START

All of us are aware of the passing of institutions, but an equally interesting study would concern itself with the origins of institutions. Just why do certain things become the rule, and others equally interesting fail to materialize? So old is humanity and so lost in pre-history are the origins of many of our customs that it is nearly impossible to re-create the actual conditions that went into the making of traditions. For example, how did our language start, or more specifically, how did a given language become differentiated from its nearest relatives? We have plenty of data to show how such kindred languages as French and Spanish gradually developed from the parent Latin, but the Latin itself was originally a part of some other language stock and became different through many decades or centuries. When one thinks of this, he finds himself as puzzled as when he tries to trace his family line back a thousand years. Pretty soon he discovers himself kin to more people than were in the world at the time, at least, theoretically. Try to think of a time when humanity had no domesticated animals, no cultivated plants. Even the turkey, formerly regarded as the last fowl to be domesticated, is now known to have been tamed by the Indians long before the coming of Europeans. Similarly, no great food crop has been developed within historical times. Many related plants have long been known in their wild state, but even scientists have not been able to bridge the gap between the wild and the cultivated in their experiments. Teosinte, the nearest relative of Indian corn, is still teosinte, and Indian corn shows little tendency to return to its wild state, though a few plants in every field may show some signs of their wild origin.

Customs are shrouded in even greater mystery. How did cookery begin? How did the race learn that certain things were good food, and others were not? How did the idea of monogamy develop. Some theorists would argue that our development has followed the lines of least resistance, but any fair-minded study of customs would soon prove this theory false. Taboos, known and practiced among all sorts of people, nearly always impose definite hardships. Very seldom is the right way in any code of conduct the easiest way. The farther back one goes in language, the more complicated it is found to be. In like manner there is greater complexity in the customs of savages than in those of the highly civilized.

When the horse-drawn vehicle finally yields to the motor car, all of us will feel that a great era has been reached; but the motor car is only a further adaption of the wheel. Who invented the wheel? Radio uses the air waves, but they have always been there and have been used crudely in other times. Electricity is our servant and is all about us, but the remotest savage came under the spell of lightning and knew as much about it as we. Inventors, after all, are mere adapters of ideas long known by humanity but inadequately used.

We laugh at rigmorales that children and primitive people know and use, but our simplest ideas and statements have usually evolved from just such conglomerations. Simplicity of speech, of manners, of religion, of political organization, of social life has come laboriously and was preceded by more complex methods—Kentucky Folklore Series.

FIELD TRIP

The sophomore and Junior class with Miss Maud Byrd and Wendell Nickell as visitors, went on a field trip Friday, March 18, 1938.

We started by climbing the hill facing the school and after reaching the top of the hill decided to take some pictures. After taking the pictures and studying a few flowers and trees we hiked on over to the Scout Caves.

When we arrived at the caves the boys gathered some wood and made a large fire and we spent the rest of the afternoon roasting marshmallows and returned about 3:15 p.m. All reported a nice time.

Sundial Consulted by Moses Used as a sundial at Thebes thirteen centuries before Christ, the Obelisk of ancient Luxor probably was consulted frequently by Moses, and certainly was one of the most useful ornaments in the court of Rameses II, observes a Paris United Press correspondent. It was transported to Paris after the Napoleonic invasion of Egypt, and has been standing in the Place de la Concorde for more than a century.

By THE LITTLE ENGINEER

AN automobile is one of life's most useful possessions. If treated properly it will be a willing and long working servant. If treated improperly it will stage a lot of justified sit-down strikes and retire from active service at an early age—prematurely and unnecessarily.

Few motorists realize the vital part played in the life of a car by the use of the better types of reliable advertised lubricants made from the costlier but more substantial crude oils such as those from the Pennsylvania fields. Such oils cost only a few cents more than the cheaper and frequently unknown lubricants and are replenished at suitable intervals. They return dividends easily translated into actual dollars. Here are some of the things a reliable nationally known oil does for the owner of a car, truck or tractor: saves fuel costs by minimizing friction and reduces loss of power from the combustible mixture escaping past piston rings; saves oil costs by doubling the operating hours between refills and retaining its lubricating properties; saves your time and money by preventing unnecessary breakdowns; makes your car last longer and have a better resale value. And, in addition, good oil gives you motoring peace of mind.

Phil and His Brothers

by Lawrence Hawthorne

Aw heck, I can't have any fun Around here any more! No matter what I try t' do, My brothers all get sore! Why, even Dick is gettin' so He wants t' read all day, An' Bob an' Bower think they both Are too growed-up t' play!

They use t' do a lot o' things That kids 're s'posed t' do, Like playin' cowboy, ridin' bikes—An' makin' racers, too! But now they want t' drive the car An' take a girl somewhere; Or talk t' folks like they was men—Jus' sittin' in a chair!

I'm glad I'm still a little guy; An' Daddy says they'll see The time when they'd give anything T' be a kid like me! I s'pose it won't be very long Till I get big—but, say, I hope I'll never get so big That I won't like t' play!

THESE ARE LIFESAVERS

THAT'S what Consumers Information calls these workers in a Pittsburgh glass plant, who are testing and finishing non-shatterable glass for use in automobiles. It is explained that one of the greatest hazards in auto accidents used to be flying glass, which was the most common cause of injury. Now all American cars are equipped with the shatter-proof variety, developed by American industrial research experts especially for this purpose. The man shown above keeps a constant vigil with his pyrometer, to assure proper melting conditions. The girl is polishing the edges of a car window.

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

COOL tones in window shades are the vogue! They're designed to subdue the glare of the sun and keep the rooms livable even on torrid days.

We have discovered there are two such new tints—a green in the springleaf range and a larkspur blue. Both of them soft, muted, and delightfully restful to the eyes.

Another household hint for this spring in decoration is that green in its varying tones promises to be particularly important in draperies, slipcovers, cretonnes, chintzes and pottery. And no wonder, for a soft green seems to bring the whole beauty of the countryside indoors!

"BE STRONG"

We are not here to dream, to drift. We have hard work to do and loads to lift.

Shun not the struggle—face it; tis God's gift. Be Strong.

It matters not how deep intrenched the wrong. How hard the battle goes, the day how long.

Faint not—fight on! Tomorrow comes the song. HAPPY
